GLENELN

A meeting of the U.F.A. took place on January 24, the President and the members being present. A very encouraging letter was read by the secretary, Mr. R. W. Redding, and we will be looking for our boxes in the near future.

The president asked if there was anything for sale and Mr. Redding gave a list of books, a Geo. Redding a hay rack, and Mr. Webster a purchased Oxford farm. In the correspondence estimation, a man could not make a better investment than to buy the sheep, land the hay rack, then the car, and go home. Our meetings from now on will be on the fourth Friday in every month.

After the adjournment the meeting, a short programme was given as follows: Recitation composed and rendered by Dorothy Faught, entitled "Glenelna U.F.A."

Glenelna formed a U.F.A. They organized the other day with Mr. Edwards in the chair. And Mr. Mitchell sitting there. A writing in a book. We have committees on tea. And entertainments, "Hully Gee." Oh! we're an enterprising lot. And we'll make congress skip and hop. And show them where we'll put a stop.

There's a board of directors. Hear them shout! I wonder what it's all about. I don't think I hear them say. "He's going to join our U.F.A." There's Mitchell, Price and C. V. Wark. You'll find them in advance, if you don't join our U.F.A. You'll have to pay to dance. We're going to have a "rural route" Hear that committee squeak. And won't it be lots of fun. To get mail twice every week. And we've got a reporter too. So mind your P's and Q's. If you are on the committee next. You'll read it in "The News." So let us work with all our might. To help the farmers in the fight. For it is through the U.F.A. That we can only hope to stay. Upon our farms.

Recitation by Edna Mitchell. "Tower must be tied tonight." Recitation by N. Spence, "Dan McGrew." Recitation by Clara Nalpmith, "A wise old owl." Recitation by Alfred Shepherd, "Wondrous Eve." Recitation by Edna Redding, "Mother's Job." Recitation by Rebecca Faught, "Pige Disaster." Song by Mr. Kenzie. The programme was greatly appreciated.

Our next meeting will take place on Feb. 23rd, and our programme will consist of a debate, musicals, and reading in more educational than travelling. The affirmative is to be championed by Edna Mitchell, Edna Redding and Dorothy Faught; the negative by Dorothy Edwards and the Misses Cuddy.

Recitation by Fred Shepherd. Duet by Clara Nalpmith and Rebecca Faught. Recitation by Wilt Stevenson. Song by the Glee Club. A paper by Mr. and Mrs. Webster. A song by Mr. Kenzie. Recitation by Jean Shepherd. Nigger dance by a nigger. Paper by Mr. Mitchell. Recitation by Mr. Spence. Selection by Mr. Huggins. Community song by Miss Dorothy Edwards and Miss Josie Cuddy. Don't anybody tarry. Come, Tom, Dick and Harry. Make everybody merry. At our next U.F.A. (Feb. 23.)

There seemed to be a great misunderstanding regarding a minute passed by the Finance Committee at our

TO USE GERMS IN NEXT WAR

Those who went through the last war at close quarters to the scene of fighting thought the bombing of London by German planes and the shells from the coast of Belgium were the worst. But Dr. Hans Maxin, the inventor, declares that the dangers to which the civilized population of the world are exposed in the event of a future war will be a circumstance to what will happen in the next war. He said that he had spent twenty years before Germany tried to master the world as he had prophesied in his book "The Next War," and that next war despite any international agreement to the contrary, Maxin also foretold the marvelous uses to the policy of the past. He said that it was still a fair weather toy.

He predicted the use of torch and smoke bombs. At four years before Russia and Japan grappled, Maxin had written an article in an American magazine in the hills at that time, and stating that Japan would be victorious—an opinion which evoked derision at that time. Mr. Maxin, who is of course, famous as an inventor of warlike and other devices, makes his latest prophecies and plans for the next war. He is going to see inland cities smothered in poisonous gas and tens of thousands of inhabitants, men, women and children, killed in a few minutes.

Plas and coolies and body lice and typhus fever and other deadly ailments sowed by billions upon the inhabitants of enemy countries. Rats and mice will be infected with bubonic plague and let down from airplanes to spread contagion. There will be no place that one may hide himself and be safe from attack. All non-combatants will be exposed to destruction, as the final, according to Revelation of Judgment Day.

"As chairman of the committee on ordinance and explosives of the naval consulting board," says Mr. Maxin, writing in the New York Tribune, "I had an opportunity during the war of examining our military and naval inventions that no one ever before was called upon to examine in the same manner. Among the inventions submitted was a poisonous gas, which the inventor claimed would be far more deadly than anything yet produced. I have lately seen in the press announcements that we have a poisonous gas three drops of which, striking the body of a man, will result in certain death, and the vapor from one drop will surely be fatal. Possibly this is the same gas that I submitted to me. We mean by 'raw' the vapor of the poisonous substance that produces the gas or vapor."

"It is possible," asks Maxin, "that we have reached a stage of intellectual development and mechanical accomplishment that is going to be suicidal. It is possible that the human race is going to turn all its wonderful instrumentalities of this great mechanical age to the destruction of humankind? Are the same instrumentalities which have lifted mankind out of barbarism to be employed to send him back to barbarism? I am 53 years old and during my lifetime have seen brought three-quarters of all the accomplishments to which man owes today his elevated position in terms of human progress. I was born more than half way back to the cave man. Is it possible that I shall live to see the end of the past century and a half undone? I expect to live another twenty years, perhaps thirty. Is it possible that I shall live to see that the end of the inventor and his inventions have done in one hundred and fifty years for human betterment?

Railway News

Philadelphia.—The Canadian Pacific Railway has opened its new offices here in the Cross Building at the corner of 3rd, Locust and 15th Streets. Growth of the company's business and the gradual movement of the city's most important business institutions in this direction were responsible for this move into larger quarters in the heart of the hotel, theatre and business district. The offices which have been handsomely fitted, accommodate both freight and passenger officials on Canadian Pacific rail and ocean lines, as well as representatives of the Minneapolis, St. Paul and Sault and the Duluth, South Shore and Atlantic Railways.

London, Ont.—This year the Canadian Pacific Railway has arranged to hold weekly first aid classes at London throughout the entire year and the instruction will be furnished by the employees themselves, many of whom have become very proficient in first aid work.

By this means these employees can drop into the classes from time to time and refresh themselves on the instruction, while the new employees, especially those in train and engine service, whose duties may require them to be absent from the classes one week, will have the opportunity of taking the instruction later on as the classes will continue throughout the year. E. F. Wright, C. P. R. storekeeper at London, is chairman in charge of the committee, which is looking after the formation of first aid classes on the London division.

Montreal.—Judge Choquet's warning issued some time ago threatening to fine the parents of boys causing damages in any part of the city was put into effect when he condemned fifteen mothers of arrested boys to pay $125 each for the acts of their offspring.

For some time there has been reports from the R. C. of destruction to cars and fixtures by youngsters who run wild through the yards and use the cars for playing hide and seek. The most serious accusations were laid against boys who were caught throwing stones at passing trains, endangering the lives of travellers. Judge Choquet gave a warning that he would fine the parents responsible for the acts of vandalism by children. When he had fifteen cases prepared for court he carried out his threat by making the parents pay the costs of the damages incurred.

Montreal.—From Finland to Duluth, Minn., via Montreal, travelling through the city, a young boy, Veikko Tuomela, aged eight, who stepped off the train at the Duluth station, the other day, was a smile of confidence and trust in the strange world about him. He was taken to his uncle, Frank Salini, at Virginia, Minn.

The lad recently became an orphan and had been written to friends in Helsinki that he would take care of the boy. "Safely" was unable to go to Finland, and the boy was placed in the care of the Canadian Pacific. He came from Helsinki to England, where he was placed on board the S.S. Melita, and carefully looked after until his arrival at Montreal. Since his arrival he has been sent on to his destination. In all he travelled about 9,000 miles, and appeared to be as happy as a clam.

Perry Sound.—Perry Sound, Ontario, was last week the scene of a series of railway accidents that seem to indicate a growing carelessness on the part of the travelling public. It was another case of the motor car hitting a moving train, and there was about the event all the usual evidences of gross, foolhardy disregard of danger that marks most of these so-called accidents.

The engine was switching at the time, and was moving at about five miles an hour. The engine bell was ringing, and the whistle had sounded just before the engine whistled at the crossing. A motorist who was giving thought to the important fact that he was approaching a railway crossing could not have missed the warnings given, and in this case the auto rolled merrily on and struck the side of the engine, and naturally came off second best. Fortunately the occupant of the car escaped injury for which he need waste no thanks on his own watchfulness and careful driving. He approached the level crossings unprepared, or make them so rough as to compel slow driving of motor cars, for in no other way will some people be persuaded to approach these crossings at a speed that will permit them to come to a stop when their lives depend upon their so doing.

THE POOR MAN'S RICHES

How many people realize that sleep is the most important thing in the world? It is said that Napoleon, Wellington, Frederick the Great, and many other famous men slept on an average no more than four or five hours every day.

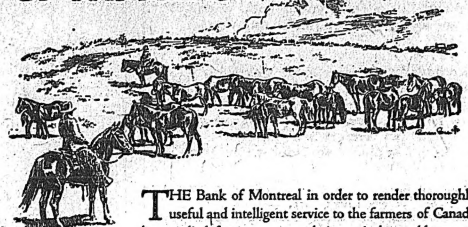

Whether this statement be true or not, its propagation has done an incalculable amount of harm. It has set us a false standard.

The fallacious inference has been drawn that to make the most of life we must to sleep as little as possible. It is considered "clever" to be able to sit up late and rise early. We pretend to "soak" at sleep as a waste of valuable time. "Sleeplessness" is one of the bitterest forms of reproach. We forget Boswell's accounts of the incomparable Dr. Johnson lying abed till three in the afternoon. We forget that the Great Darwin, for all the marvellous work he did in his lifetime, could not work more than two or three hours a day.

Sleep is more than the mere "suspension of bodily activity" that the older scientists used to call it. A position in terms of human progress goes on all through the body while we sleep. It is only then that food eaten in the daytime goes through the later stages of transformation into bodily tissue, repairing the ravages of yesterday and preparing for the labors of tomorrow.

The nearest we can come to a general rule is: Sleep until you feel refreshed.—The Bilt.

ROWELL THINKS CANADA MIGHT FOREGO SOME REPARATIONS

ADVISES DOMINION TO STAND FOR COMMISSION

Guelph, Ont., Jan. 27.—Canada should relinquish all her claims against Germany under the heads of pensions and separation allowances as they are not covered by the agreement under which Germany laid down her arms, and should not be included in the treaty, declared from New-on Rowell, in addressing joint meetings of the local Canadian and Rotary Clubs here last night on Canada and Reparations.

Mr. Rowell was one of Canada's first delegates to the assembly of the League of Nations and president of the privy council in the war cabinet of Sir Robert Borden.

"Canada should stand for the settlement by an impartial international commission of the amount Germany should pay and of the terms of payment," Mr. Rowell continued, and declared Canadians could not view without grave apprehension the present course of the French policy ### and particularly the occupation of the Ruhr."

Wilson Was Right

Recalling the negotiations leading to the treaty of Versailles Mr. Rowell said:

"On the question of reparations the allies first took the position that Germany should be required to pay the whole cost of the war. It was an indefensible position. Let us frankly admit it. It was contrary to the terms upon which Germany had laid down her arms. Subsequently the allies persuaded President Wilson, contrary to the advice of his own experts and legal advisers, that they were entitled to include under the category of compensation to the civilian population, pensions and separation allowances. Pensions and separation allowances undoubtedly formed part of the direct cost of the war, and I have never been able to see how we could possibly include these items under damages to the civilian populations. President Wilson's advisers were right and he and his advisers were wrong when they included these claims in Germany's obligations under the treaty."

"Canada should also stand for the settlement by an impartial international commission of the amount Germany should pay and of the terms of payment."

"Canada should stand for the policy which would aid in bringing about a settlement of peace—co-operation and promote the spirit of co-operation and peace. Canada should oppose all efforts to enforce the present impos### sible reparations provisions of the treaty of Versailles by force. We must stand for a policy of justice and fair play all around."

"I have referred to Canada's interest in the question of reparations, but Canada has a greater interest in the economic rehabilitation and peace of Europe than any possible effort Europe's present condition may have upon our immediate economic interests. Canada's contribution to the last war was an investment in the economic rehabilitation of Europe. Canada ever made. Peace can only be secured and preserved by fair and honorable cooperation in all nations which share in justice and in peace. We have maintained co-operation in international affairs since the war. We must continue to do so."

Read Zane Grey's New Book

"Wanderer of the Wasteland"

Just in, Price $2.00

Zane Grey has said that he is willing to stand or fall by "Wanderer of the Wasteland"—that it represents the achievement of his own years of first hand experiences in the wilderness, where a man, stripped of all the artificialities of civilization, stands or falls in the fierce struggle with nature, according as his body and spirit are strong or weak. The desert surrounds the reader of this novel—by Zane Grey's vivid descriptions, it is made to glare under the reader's eyes, on all sides, to mysterious, untrodden horizons. Here is a big novel; a gripping story; a vivid experience not to be missed.

RED DEER DEFEAT

LACOMBE 8-5

The win of 8-5 for Red Deer, against Lacombe, in the exhibition hockey here on Wednesday evening last, was a very popular one with the spectators, as these teams have been playing close, hard games this season.

Red Deer got away to a good start in this game by scoring three goals in quick succession. Lacombe secured a lone tally before the end of the period.

In the second spasm both teams secured three goals, the majority on shots that did not give the net guards much chance.

With the score at 4-4, Lacombe came out in the third with renewed energy, and managed to bring the score to 6-5; but Red Deer were also going fast in this period and notched two more before the bell rang, winning by 8-5.

Although the play was fast, and back-checking hard, the best of feeling predominated all through the game, and no real dirty work was indulged in.

Buckles and Fairborn turned in excellent games for Lacombe, and at one period Day was going particularly strong.

Red was a little off on account of a very sore foot, but stuck to his post at centre and accounted for the majority of the goals. Dell was complaining of a cold, but played an excellent game.

The teams were:
Red Deer: Goal, Johnson; defence, Carpenter and Malcolm; forwards, Dell, Reid, Taylor; subs, G. Dancocks, I. Townsend.

Lacombe: Goal, Watts; defence, Gourlay, Jackson; forwards, Buckles, Fairborn, Ritz; subs, Danner, Day. Cec. Hewson refereed the game in his usual satisfactory manner.

L.B. HAIR TONIC

PROVES ITS WORTH

Red Deer, January 10, 1923.

Dear Sir:—For a number of years I have been troubled with dandruff and had tried all manner of dandruff cures, but none of them seemed to give me any relief. About four months ago I got a bottle of L.B. Hair Tonic, and after using it a few times my scalp felt better than it had for years, and before the bottle was half used the dandruff had entirely disappeared. By using L.B. occasionally ever since, it has never come back, and my hair has long since ceased to fall out, as it was doing when I had the dandruff so badly. To any one suffering with dandruff I can truthfully recommend L.B. Hair Tonic to cure it if only given a fair trial.

Sincerely yours,

HARRY LAW.

L.B. Hair Tonic will cure dandruff and promote growth of hair.

"THE PRISONER OF ZENDA"

Once in a great while there comes a motion picture which can be hailed as almost perfect. Such a picture is the Rex Ingram production for Metro of the famous story, "The Prisoner of Zenda," Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the Rex Theatre. This play, which is based on Anthony Hope's novel, has been skillfully adapted by Mary O'Hara, gorgeously mounted by the Metro company, and the excellent cast—which in earlier days would have been labelled "all-star"—shows the inspired direction of that young wizard of the screen, Rex Ingram.

PLEASE STOP MY—WHAT?

"Times are hard, money is scarce, business is dull, retrenchment is a duty. Please stop my—Whiskey? Oh no, times are not hard enough for that. But there is something else that costs me a large amount of money every year which I wish to save—Please stop my—Tobacco, cigars and snuff? No, no; not these, but I must retrench somewhere. Please stop my—Ribbons, jewels, ornaments and trinkets? Not at all. Pride must be fostered if times are hard; but I believe I can see a way to effect quite a saving in another direction. Please stop my—Tea, coffee and needless unhealthy luxuries? No, no; not these. I cannot think of such a sacrifice. I must think of something else. Ah, I have it now! My weekly paper costs me four cents a week. I must save that. Please stop my—paper! That will carry me through easily. I believe in retrenchment and economy."—Ex.
